1. From Bab and Bruce Norman (from Oakville) with a note of commendation and thanks for the the very well written and formatted summer newsletter. They also noted the staff and volunteers creativity and organization of so many varied events. They thanked the Museum for keeping the stories and history of Port Colborne alive and well, and wished the museum continued success.

2. From Lynn Millar regarding St. John's Lutheran Cemetery and the grave of Martha Winklemann who died in 1925 from strychnine poisoning. Her family used to place flowers, stones, and shells around her grave, but never knew her name until she was able to get the article from the Archives. She said the grave is now covered in brush and that she would like to see it cleaned up. She has also written a short article about the grave.

7. Council Report

Councilor Beauregard is unable to attend the meeting due to scheduled Council Meeting, however Stephanie reported that she has been attending Ward meetings with Councilor Beauregard and he will be talking to the City Clerk about the conflicting schedule of the two meetings.

Some of the Capital projects have been completed:

- the new carpet in the Archives' research room has been installed

The installation of the revamped Neff Steam Buggy exhibit is coming along. Elyse is just waiting for the ceiling to be finished so she can install the exhibit.

All the summer students have settled into their roles and working on their projects.

Michelle also presented the Archives report on behalf of Michelle Vosburgh. The Urban History Walking Tours have been fairly well-attended - between 2 to 8 people per tour. No sign-ups for August dates yet, but two are signed up for Friday's tour and there is a private tour on Monday for 7 people.

The Speaker's Series will be beginning in September - there are 4 scheduled for this Fall.
